the Distinguished Guests---Pleased With the Cadets.

West Point, Oct. 3.—West Point today was the scene of imposing ceremonies, which are destined to become memorial in its annals. The visit of the international American congress and the unveiling of portraits of Grant Sheridan and Sherman, presented by Geo. W. Childs, were the principal features. A special train containing delegates to the international American congress arrived about 5 o'clock. Carriages awaited the delegates, and they were driven to the residence of Superintendent Wilson, where a distinguished company had assembled to welcome them. The booming of caunon announced the arrival at the post of the distinguished guests. The secretary of war was the first to alight from the carriage and step upon the veranda of the superintendent's quarters. He was warmly greeted by Gen. Sherman, Gen. Horace Proctor, Gen. Van Vieet, Mr. Geo. W. Childs, Wayne McVeagh and the academic and military staff of the post. The was an immense ctowd of spectators congregated under the trees on the edge of the plaza. A batallion of cadets marched in review before the visitors. The machine-like precision of movement and soldierly appearance of the cadets elicited from the foreigners many complimentary remarks. The batallion marched to Grant hall, the crowd quickly following, and in a twinkling the hall was tendent Wilson, where a distinguished following, and in a twinkling the half was jammed with people. A platform had been erected at the north end of the room been erected at the north end of the room where the portraits of the three great generals, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, hung on the wall, each veiled in a United States flag. The exercises were opened with prayer by the chapiain of the post, Rev. Dr. Postlethwait. The superintendent then raised his hand; the tap of a drum followed, the flags fell from the pictures and they stood revealed in all their beauty. The patallion presented arms, the band played "Hail Columbia," and the audience sprang to their feet and cheered. Gen. Horace Proctor was then introduced and made a presentation address in which he eulogized the three generals and the donor of the pictures. Superintendent Wilson, in a short address, accepted the portraits and the secretary of war made a few remarks. Gen. Sherman, who during all these ceremonies had sat on the

He said it was by one of those strange appointed accidents of life that he was permitted to be the soile survivor of what Porter had termed the great trio of generals of the late war. "I was older than Grant or Sheridan. No three men ever lived on this earth so different from each other than the three men whose portraits you are lot king at. The Delegates' Excursion.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Delegates to the international American congress were astir early to prepare for a long trip arranged for by them by the department of state. They partook of an early breakfast, then made their way to the Pennsylvania railroad station, and were received by Wm. Curtis, special agent of the state department, in charge of the excursion. At 8:11 the train started on its long journey. The first stop was made at Jersey City at 1:45 p. m. Hon, John B. at Baltimore Secretary Proctor occupied a seat in the car "Columbus," having decided at the last moment to accompany the party as far as West Point, where he will view the military parade. There has been some changes in the list of excursionists. The delegates from the Argentine Republic were absent. Messrs. Estee and Hanson of the American delegation, who had intended to join the party later on, concluded to embark at Washington. Delegates Pereira of Brazil, Novarro and Lemontour of Mexico. Guzmon of Nicaragus, and Androde of Venezuela, who were set down as of the party, declined to go at the last moment. It appears many of the delegates to the congress, presumably unacquainted with the luxurious surroundings and conveniencies of a modern American palace.

GREAT FALLS, Oct. 3 .- [Special to the dependent.]-The excitement continues, the news. Betting continues active. A nehman came to town to-day to stake his nestead on Toole. The democracy is as defiant as ever and ready for another tussle. The republican gains on the legislative ticket are largely due to the votes of the Swedish miners at Sand Coulee, who lack only the votes of 37 electors. Carter's majority in the county is 167 and Power's completed to-day. The republicans elect all the county ticket except M. M. Cockrill clerk of the district court, who is elected by a decisive majority, after a spirited contest against Dyas, a democratic bolter, and Race, the republican nominee. The majorities vary considerably. Wegner, demo cratic candidate for county commissioner, may pull through. It is confirmed that the republicans have elected State Senator Armington and Representatives Hastie and Lochray. Hastle is abusing democrats to night, although he must have had many democratic votes. Day, the joint democratic candidate for Cascade and Dawson, is evidently defeated. Benton leads for district judge in the county by about 64 votes. Choteau county may help towards Leslie's election. He ran shead of his ticket here.

A NEW PACIFIC ROAD.

A great transcontinental scheme, which has been slumbering for seven years, has come to the front again. The Cleveland Leader says: "Back in 1883 a road called 907 the Toledo, Indianapolis and St. Louis was incorporated in the States of Ohio, Indiana Lewiston Journal: The seals that frequent the Maine coast are easily the first proposition changing the Fuberio was rejected. Some several resolutions were adopted and a message received from the house that it is a message received from the house that the same of a coasting schooner has one that dopted the eighteen resolutions upon which the deputies had been voting ail day. The twelfth resolution then came up for consideration and Dr. Egar of New York, spoke in support of it. It was "an order for the administration of the Lord's area and illinois. Little was done at the time date bath in the sea whenever he likes; with no fear of his escaping. One would think a seal too repulsive in his makeup to attract a lady's affection, but we once saw a lady offer to give a fisherman who had support; for the robric then shall be read to the creed.
